The Opportunity

Bible Society has a strong commitment to sustainability, aiming to reduce its carbon footprint, protect the environment, and involve employees in a meaningful journey toward sustainability. As a charity, it wanted to make impactful changes that would align with their mission, benefit future generations, and inspire others to adopt eco-friendly practices.

"Start simple, make lots of little, incremental steps — and think before you buy or commit to anything!"

The Solution

To meet its sustainability goals, Bible Society partnered with SmartestEnergy Business and chose a 100% renewable electricity plan. SmartestEnergy Business' reputation, The Carbon Trust verification, and customer support aligned with the charity's values.

Alongside this, Bible Society introduced beehives, wild areas to boost biodiversity, LED lighting, and hybrid vehicles. Despite challenges from their building's age and budget limits, Bible Society found creative solutions to make impactful progress within budget.

“We're committed to pushing on so we leave a better legacy for the generations to come.”

The Outcome

Bible Society's efforts have led to measurable sustainability impacts, reducing energy consumption and their carbon footprint.

Their commitment to renewable energy has strengthened their dedication to environmental stewardship, which employees have embraced. With new goals, like exploring PV panels and improving heating systems, the charity continues its sustainability journey. Bible Society's incremental approach serves as an inspiring model for other organisations starting their green energy journey.
